

DIRECTIONS TO CAMPUS

Within Hamburg

If traveling by car, bus or with subway line U1, make your way to Stephansplatz. Follow the street Gorch-Fock-Wall to the first intersection and make a right onto Jungiusstraße. The main entrance to the Law School will be on your right at the end of Jungiusstraße.

Free and paid parking can be found along Gorch-Fock-Wall, Jungiusstraße and St. Petersburger Straße.

Schedules and system maps for the local transportation network available at www.hvv.de.

Arriving by train

Travel to Dammtor rail station and make your way to the exit marked Dag-Hammarskjöld-Platz/CCH/Messe. On your left, take the pedestrian bridge toward Stephansplatz. You will pass by an entrance to the subway (U-Bahn) as well as a memorial sculpture. When you reach the intersection, turn right onto the street Gorch-Fock-Wall and follow it to the next intersection. Make a right onto Jungiusstraße. The main entrance to the Law School will be on your right at the end of Jungiusstraße.

An alternative route through the park Planten un Blomen is detailed at <http://buceri.us/wegbeschreibung>.

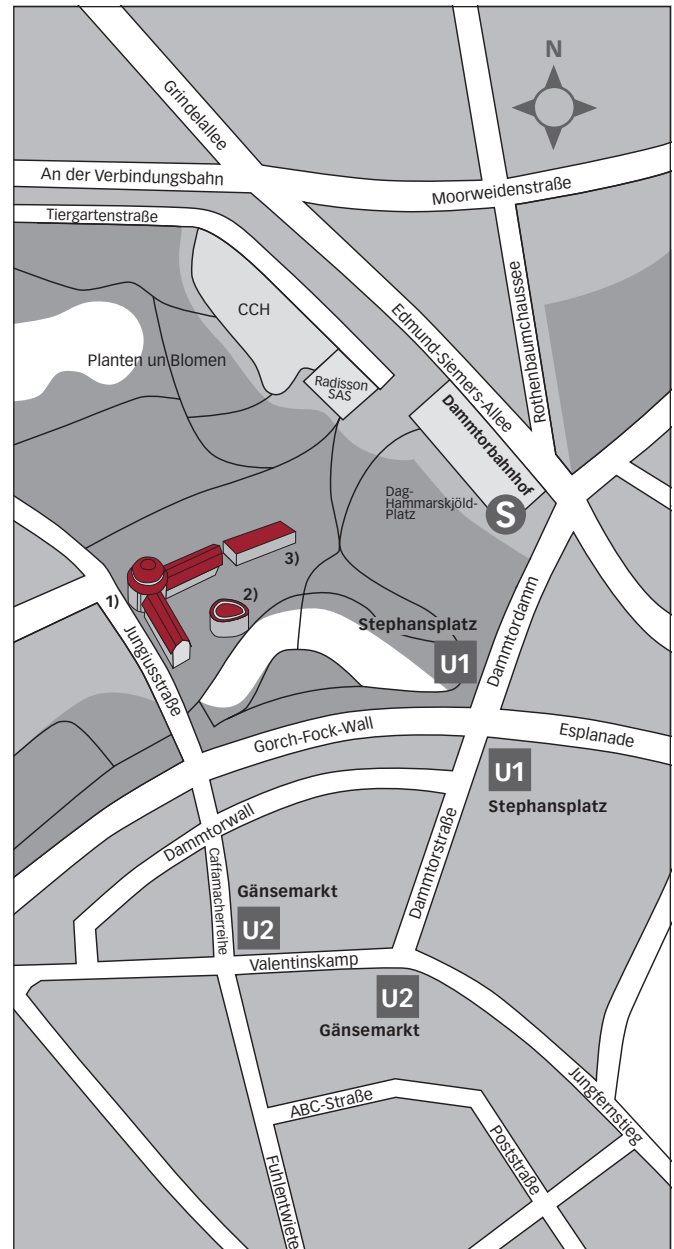

Due to construction, access via Marseiller Straße will not be possible before the end of 2019.

From the airport

Take line S1 all the way to Hauptbahnhof (central station). Once there, exit the train, cross the platform and take line S11, S21 or S31 to the Dammtor rail station; follow directions above.

Alternatively, take line S1 to the stop Ohlsdorf (one station from the airport) and transfer to line U1, which will take you directly to Stephansplatz; follow directions above. Both routes take an average of 40 minutes.

A taxi from the airport to the Law School takes roughly 30 minutes and costs about € 30.
